Press Release 18/05/2017

Mayor Announces Exciting Plans for Haywards Heath

Cllr Jim Knight inaugurated as Town Mayor for Haywards Heath at the Annual Meeting of the Town Council has unveiled exciting new plans for the Town.

Working closely with the newly elected Deputy Mayor, Cllr Alastair McPherson, the Mayor is delighted to announce, "The Art of the Possible", Hayward Heath Town Council's priorities going forward. The priorities will focus on continued support for residents, organisations and groups within the town.

These include 'Best in Class' development for the Hurst Farm area, working closely with Mid Sussex District Council to deliver a new school, a country park, wildlife corridors, a new cemetery and allotments for the area. In line with the Neighbourhood Plan, "The Art of the Possible" embraces positive growth and opportunities for Haywards Heath. It includes improved sport and leisure facilities, enhancement of community facilities, support for the local business community thereby increasing employment opportunities and a positive road layout managing future traffic and infrastructure needs.

The Mayor says, "Following on from the Neighbourhood Plan for Haywards Heath, Cllr McPherson has worked tirelessly on the visionary document 'The Art of the Possible' outlining exciting future plans for this great town and community. Alastair and I are committed to delivering on the positive opportunities for sustainable growth of the town outlined in this project.

I am additionally delighted to announce that one of my first projects as Mayor will be working together with the Bluebell Railway and Network Rail to get this historic railway to Haywards Heath. These are exciting projects to start my term of office and I look forward to serving this great community as Mayor."

Ends.
